

(l) Personnel providing coverage by still photography shall be then currently accredited to the Press Photographers' Gallery Committee of Press Photographers.

(m) Personnel providing coverage by the television and radio media and by still photography shall conduct themselves and their coverage activities in an orderly and unobtrusive manner.

RULE 22. SUBPOENA POWERS

A subpoena may be authorized and issued by the Chairman, in accordance with clause 2(m) of Rule XI of the House of Representatives, in the conduct of any investigation or activity or series of investigations or activities within the jurisdiction of the Committee, following consultation with the Ranking Minority Member.

In addition, a subpoena may be authorized and issued by the Committee or its subcommittees in accordance with clause 2(m) of Rule XI of the House of Representatives, in the conduct of any investigation or activity or series of investigations or activities, when authorized by a majority of the Members voting, a majority of the committee or subcommittee being present.

Authorized subpoenas shall be signed by the Chairman or by any Member designated by the Committee.

RULE 23. RECOMMENDATION FOR APPOINTMENT OF CONFEREES

Whenever the Speaker is to appoint a conference committee, the Chairman shall recommend to the Speaker as conferees those Members of the Committee who are primarily responsible for the legislation (including to the full extent practicable the principal proponents of the major provisions of the bill as it passed the House), who have actively participated in the Committee or subcommittee consideration of the legislation, and who agree to attend the meetings of the conference. With regard to the appointment of minority Members, the Chairman shall consult with the Ranking Minority Member.

RULE 24. GENERAL OVERSIGHT

Not later than February 15th of the first session of a Congress, the Committee shall meet in open session, with a quorum present, to adopt its oversight plans for that Congress for submission to the Committee on House Oversight and the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight, in accordance with the provisions of clause 2(d) of Rule X of the House of Representatives.

RULE 25. OTHER PROCEDURES AND REGULATIONS

The Chairman, in consultation with the Ranking Minority Member, may establish such other procedures and take such actions as may be necessary to carry out the foregoing rules or to facilitate the effective operation of the Committee. Any additional procedures or regulations may be modified or rescinded in any or all particulars by a majority vote of the full Committee.

HONORING SUSAN B. ANTHONY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Colorado (Mrs. MUSGRAVE) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mrs. MUSGRAVE. Mr. Speaker, today I rise to recognize the debt that all of us owe to the pioneering work of Susan B. Anthony. Susan B. Anthony is celebrated for her indispensable role in securing for women the right to vote and setting our Nation on the course towards recognizing the full equality and the dignity of women.

For Susan B. Anthony and her colleagues in the 19th century, promoting women's rights and promoting the dignity of women also meant opposing the evil of abortion. Out of respect for women recovering from abortion, I will refrain from using the term that Susan B. Anthony used to describe this procedure.

Susan B. Anthony was very insightful. She was one of our pioneering feminists, and she was also a strong pro-life advocate. It is instructive, Mr. Speaker, that Susan B. Anthony's opposition to abortion arose from her fight for equal rights for women, and that she saw no reason to separate the two.

Mr. Speaker, as we commemorate the 183rd anniversary of Susan B. Anthony's birthday and her human rights legacy, let us not separate the fight for equal rights for women from the fight for rights for all women, born and unborn.

Mr. Speaker, abortion is one of the greatest human rights issues that face us in our time. In honoring Susan B. Anthony, let us agree that being pro-life is inseparable from being pro-woman.

IN SUPPORT OF PRESIDENT BUSH AND WORLD LEADERS IN CONFRONTING SADDAM HUSSEIN

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. PENCE) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. PENCE. Mr. Speaker, we will confront many issues in the 108th Congress. They will have to do with the economy; our own budget; a debate over cloning, which will come to the House floor this week and to this very Chamber moments from now; reforming Medicare; but nothing can be compared to the issues of war and peace.

In the midst of an incessant barrage of media alerts, Mr. Speaker, and new resolutions being debated before the United Nations, as a member of the Committee on International Relations I rise tonight to stand with the President of the United States and the strong and unwavering leadership in confronting tyranny which he and the Prime Minister of England and the leaders of some 43 other nations have consistently and courageously provided to the world.

Mr. Speaker, I am not a combat veteran; it was not part of my generation. But my father was, having seen conflict and bloodshed in the Korean War. I do not welcome war. I do not hope for it. As near as I can tell, from my late father and veterans with whom I have close enough relationships to hear the truth, war is a wicked and a violent enterprise that can consume our children in a conflagration, unthinkable in ordinary life.

But nevertheless it has come from time to time upon the free nations of the world, and it seems most especially on the United States of America, to be willing to employ the arsenal of democracy to confront force with force as a last resort. We may well be come upon such a time again, Mr. Speaker.

We are hearing a great deal in the national media about what the facts are or are not, what has been proven and what has not been proven. Mr. Speaker, I felt compelled tonight simply to rise and talk about the facts for what they are, for what we as policymakers in the 107th Congress knew them to be, and for what every member of the Security Council of the United Nations knows them to be today.

Mr. Speaker, it is said that facts are stubborn things. I offer tonight a few stubborn things.

For instance, this Congress on this floor and our colleagues in the Senate overwhelmingly gave this President the authority to use America's military power to disarm Iraq. The national legislature of the United States spoke in overwhelming fashion that the need was real and urgent and the President should be empowered under our constitutional authority.

The United States Security Council adopted Resolution 1441. We hear a great deal about new resolutions. I applaud the President's effort to try and exhaust all diplomatic means this week.

But let us be clear what 1441 said. Mr. Speaker, number one, it said that Iraq is guilty. No objective observer doubts that Iraq has violated 17 U.N. resolutions.

Number two, it said that Iraq could remedy its guilt through disarmament and disclosure.

Number 3, if it refused to remedy, it would be a material breach, and serious consequences should flow.

Mr. Speaker, Baghdad is guilty. Baghdad refuses to remedy. Serious consequences are in order. I stand with the President of the United States. I pray with millions of Americans as we will ask, perhaps within the week, our finest to go forward on behalf of liberty again.

Let us focus on the facts and on the true challenges before us.
